It is intended that Consultant's work shall conform to the highest and best standards of accuracy, completeness and coordination.
- 1.4 Assignment of Personnel. Consultant shall assign only competent personnel to perform services pursuant to this Agreement. Exhibit A shall name any specific personnel (including title and hourly charge rate) who shall be performing services. Consultant shall submit all invoices to City in the manner specified herein. Scope of Work

PROJECT COMPONENTS

This project has several different components: Specific Plan, Economics Reports, Environmental Impact Report, General Plan Amendment, Midtown Specific Plan Amendment, Zoning, and Design Guidelines. We have outlined the basic contents of each document in order to clarify our proposal. The initials of team members responsible for individual chapters are noted in parentheses. The final outline and organization of the products may be revised, but the content will not change.

Specific Plan

We propose that the Transit Subarea Specific Plan be a stand alone document that builds on the Milpitas Midtown Specific Plan. The Transit Subarea Plan will have a much more detailed scale than the Midtown Specific Plan, establishing a street layout, development types for each parcel, building to street relationships for each type of street, park locations and sizes, etc. Where policies, development standards, and/or design guidelines have already been established in the Midtown Specific Plan, and directly apply to this area, we will either reference them or include them in this document. The preliminary outline of the document contents is as follows:

Introduction (D&B)

Explain goals and process for development of the Specific Plan.

Background (D&B)

Present all key information about existing conditions and development issues. Much of this was prepared in the Concept Plan phase; some additional information about development issues is likely to be added.

Land Use, Circulation, and Community Design (D&B, Field, F&P, and FTB)

- Land Use Plan – Uses, Density, Height, District Character
- Urban Design Plan – Streetscape, Pedestrian Bridges, Trails, Parks
- Circulation Plan: Street System and Pedestrian/Bike Routes
- Development Pattern – Size, Dimension, and Pattern of Blocks
- Network of Parks, Trails, and Public Gathering Places

Sub Areas: Development Policies, Standards, and Design Guidelines (D&B Field, and FTB)

For each sub-area we will establish policies, development standards, and design guidelines for the topics listed below. Illustrations will be used to the maximum extent possible. We will include a section focused solely on residential development, because residential building types occur in all the sub-areas. The architects on our team will create diagrammatic site plans and building envelopes to test out the densities and development standards, and will prepare illustrative three-dimensional drawings of up to five key focus areas (likely to be one for each sub-area.) The streetscape designers will prepare Typical Street Plan Segments and Sections for all types of streets, selected pedestrian linkages, and gateway concepts at selected intersections, showing relationship of buildings to streets and overall public space character.

 - Streets: New Streets, Street Improvements, Fair Share Traffic Mitigations (D&B, F&P)
 - Streetscape Improvements and Pedestrian Connections (D&B, Field)
 - Parks (D&B, Field)
 - Railroad Alterations (D&B, IC)

- Cost Estimates and Financing Mechanisms for Area-wide (not site specific) Infrastructure (IC, ERA)

Exhibit A:
Scope of Work

- Financing Mechanisms for Public Services (ERA)
- Implementation Work Program: Tasks for City Departments, Property Owners, and Outside Public Agencies to Establish Funding Mechanisms and Provide Infrastructure (D&B and Team)

Economics Reports (ERA)

Economics Research Associates will prepare three separate analyses which will provide critical input for the Specific Plan:

Market Demand and Absorption Analysis. ERA will review their previous work and the concept plan and conduct a market absorption analysis, estimating how much residential, office, hotel, and retail space can be absorbed over the 25 year time horizon of the plan. ERA will prepare a memo presenting the results of this analysis, and recommendations for revisions and more detailed development of the concept plan.

Fiscal Impact Analysis. ERA will prepare a fiscal impact analysis of the Concept Plan and Alternative Concept Plan, and prepare Specific Plan recommendations to ensure that the City has a stable and beneficial fiscal situation as the area is developed. These could include recommendations for adjusting the land use plan, establishing public services financing mechanisms such as community facilities districts, and other types of fiscal recommendations.

Financing Recommendations. ERA will research existing infrastructure financing mechanisms of the City of Milpitas. Once the Specific Plan is prepared and infrastructure requirements and costs are defined, ERA will prepare the sections of the Specific Plan related to infrastructure financing and phasing, with recommendations for how to structure the financing of roads, utilities, community design improvements, parks, paths/bikeways, and any other recommended infrastructure.

Environmental Impact Report

Dyett & Bhatia will coordinate preparation of a Draft EIR and Final EIR. Environmental Science Associates, Fehr & Peers, and the Infrastructure Consultant will prepare analysis of impacts and mitigations in their areas of technical expertise. The EIR will cover the following issues:

Land Use and Population. (D&B). The analysis will analyze the consistency of proposed land use changes with existing adopted plans, and project the increases in residential units, non-residential square footage, jobs and population.

Visual and Aesthetic Impacts (D&B) Dyett & Bhatia will prepare up to three visual simulations or sketches of areas proposed for height limit increases. This section will also analyze potential shade and shadow impacts on public parks and public open space.

Transportation (F&P). Fehr & Peers will study impacts and mitigations for Automobile, Transit (Future BART, Light Rail, and Bus), Bicycle, and Pedestrian circulation. Transit usage for all land use types, and the degree to which transit use reduces vehicle trips will be analyzed. The degree to which pedestrian/bike circulation, mixed use and trip chaining reduces vehicle trips will also be quantified and discussed. Recommendations for parking ratios will be developed based on analysis of transit use and vehicle ownership patterns in transit areas. F&P will determine the percentage responsibility of Transit Subarea development for mitigation measure in San Jose. The percentage responsibility will be calculated based on peak hour trip contribution or some other method acceptable to Milpitas staff.

Exhibit A:
Scope of Work

Hazardous Materials (ESA). The focus of this analysis will be to identify existing soil and groundwater contamination, and the steps required to ensure that any contaminated areas (most likely to be found in former industrial areas) are suitable for future specified land uses (e.g. residential and commercial.)

Seismic and Soil Hazards (ESA). Information provided in the section will include a summary of existing and known hazard areas, including areas known to be subject to earthquake hazard, slope instability, and unstable soils. It will describe mitigations required to meet adopted safety standards.

Air Quality (ESA). Historic and current air quality information will be collected from Milpitas monitoring stations located in the study area and from information provided by the Bay Area Air Quality Management District (BAAQMD). Compliance with state and federal air pollution guidelines will be reviewed, areas of non-compliance documented, and action plans summarized. The section will also document the major sources of air pollution in the project study area (motor vehicles, and railroads, industrial) and identify existing sensitive receptor locations.

Noise (ESA). The focus of this analysis will be establishing noise contours, particularly in view of vehicular traffic, heavy rail, light rail, and future BART, and any mitigations necessary to ensure that noise levels are met for future residential and commercial uses.

Biological Resources (ESA). ESA will identify any special status plant or animal species in the area, assess the potential for impacts under the Specific Plan, and identify mitigations if needed. Given the developed nature of the area, this is not likely to be a major focus of the analysis, but there are drainage channels which may serve as habitat areas.

Public Services (D&B). This analysis will quantify demand for additional parks and recreation facilities, school facilities, and police and fire facilities. The Specific Plan will incorporate recommendations for how to meet the identified service need.

Hydrology, Flooding, and Water Quality (IC). This analysis will focus on identifying projects that mitigate flooding impacts on future development, in view of the fact that much of the study area is currently in an identified flood zone. Facilities needed to treat storm water will also be analyzed, in accordance with current Clean Water and NPDES standards.

Public Utilities (IC). This section will focus on an analysis of sewer treatment demand and capacity, as that is a major development constraint in the City of Milpitas. The analysis will also cover water supply and distribution, recycled water, and solid waste, as well as utility services for electric, gas, phone, and cable.

General Plan Amendment (D&B)

The Specific Plan will serve as the General Plan text governing development of the Transit Subarea. Dyett & Bhatia will provide a summary paragraph and reference to the Specific Plan if the City wants to add text to the General Plan about the Transit Subarea. Dyett & Bhatia will prepare a General Plan map graphic to explain all the proposed General Plan Land Use Map amendments, which can serve as the attachment to an ordinance amending the General Plan. City staff will amend the official General Plan Land Use map after adoption.

Exhibit A:
Scope of Work

Midtown Specific Plan Amendment

There will need to be some amendments to the Midtown Specific Plan to ensure consistency between the Midtown Specific Plan and the new Transit Subarea Specific Plan. At this point, we do not see major conflicts between the text of the Midtown Specific Plan and the Transit Area Concept Plan. We believe we can ensure consistency with the Midtown Specific Plan by simply amending the land use maps and adding references in the Midtown Specific Plan to the new Transit Subarea Specific Plan.

Zoning (D&B)

Zoning Code Revisions

The major zoning work needed to implement the Transit Subarea Plan will be to develop provisions for two new land use districts: the Boulevard Commercial Zone; and the Retail Mixed Use or High Density Mixed Use Zone. There may also need to be revisions to establish the areas for neighborhood serving retail and services within residential areas. Some changes to areas that remain industrial may need to be incorporated, in order to accommodate warehouse retail. We will work within the existing structure of the Milpitas Zoning Code so that the code is easy to implement, and at the same time ensure that the provisions necessary to achieve the vision are included.

Zoning Map

Dyett & Bhatia will prepare a zoning map graphic to explain all the proposed zoning map amendments, which can serve as the attachment to a rezoning ordinance. City staff will amend the official zoning map after ordinance adoption.

Design Guidelines

The existing Midtown Specific Plan contains extensive design guidelines. Dyett & Bhatia and Field Paoli will prepare additional design guidelines for building types not addressed in the Midtown Specific Plan, such as lifestyle retail and high-rise buildings. We recommend that these be included in the Specific Plan, as described above, and not be a stand alone document.

OPTION B

Budget

We are willing to complete the proposed Transit Subarea Specific Plan and EIR for a fee $475,000. We have allocated $20,000 for infrastructure analysis to be performed by an engineering firm selected in consultation with the Public Works Department. These fees include all personnel costs, subcontractors' costs, and direct costs, and delivery of products identified in the Scope of Work. Subcontractors' costs and direct costs are billed with no administrative markup or handling fee. Costs for printing and distributing copies of documents is the responsibility of the City. The table below and on the following page explains the proposed budget in detail: Hours by Person by Task; and Budget by Person by Task.

Explain the reason for the budget change:

On November 16, 2004, the City Council directed the City Manager to negotiate a contract with the Firm of Dyett & Bhatia to prepare Phase I of the Transit Area Plan for a ±400 acre area surrounding two VTA Light Rail Stations and the Future Montague / Capitol BART Station. Phase I entailed the conducting of a community visioning exercise and the preparation of preliminary conceptual land use plans. Dyett & Bhatia began work in December 2004. After a series of Stakeholder interviews and two design charrettes, three draft alternative concept plans were prepared and presented to the Planning Commission on March 23, 2005. The Planning Commission recommended that two alternative concept plans be forwarded to the City Council for approval which the Council adopted on April 5, 2005, along with giving staff direction to initiate Phase II of the Transit Area Plan with the two alternatives.

On May 18, 2005, staff sent invitations to the top four firms that had responded to the City's RFQ/RFP to interview for preparation of Phase II of the Transit Area Plan. Only Dyett & Bhatia was interviewed as the other three firms declined to pursue the project. Dyett & Bhatia made an effective presentation and proposed a scope of work that can effectively accommodate the product and timing needs of the City. The Scope of Work would fully utilize the $325,000 budget authorized by the City Council as part of the department's FY 05-06 budget, as well as the $150,000 VTA grant. However, additional tasks are recommended to deliver an EIR and plan details that will allow developers to move forward with their proposals faster and less costly than if each developer had to hire their own consultants. The additional cost could be funded out of the Redevelopment Agency and potentially offset by developer contributions.

Approve a budget appropriation of $197,635 from the Redevelopment Agency Fund to pay for the additional costs related to the Transit Area Plan Phase II.
